LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. MacFarland, of Tripola, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. Starr over last week end.

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 29th,
C. P. R. trains will run as follows:
West bound 11:35 a.m.; East bound 20:12 p.m.

Mrs. Vincent Morrison and Master Donald Morrison, of Medicine Hat, were guests for a few days last week of Mr. and Geo. M. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Starr, Baby
Starr, Mrs. C. F. Starr, Miss Mabel Starr and Miss Helen Starr were a motor party to Medicine Hat on Tuesday.

The new Stuart Block is all but completed, and will soon be occupied. The handsome brick structure erected by Mr. Stuart is a credit to Progressive Alderson.

If you want freezing, order some Ice Cream. If you need to be lashed out, just order Hot Bovril or Hot Chocolate. The Palace Ice Cream Parlor.

Louis Burger, teacher at Tide Lake school, took the train to Medicine Hat Wednesday night, to attend the Teachers Convention
there today and tomorrow.

Miss Crystal, teacher of Chub School, sang a most enjoyable solo at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening. Miss Chrystal is attending the Teachers' Convention at Medicine Hat this week.

Wednesday, Oct. 26th, is the date of the next debate. The subject of the debate is: "Resolved, That Consolidated Schools are Beneficial."
The affirmative will be taken by Mrs. Emery and Robert Elliott, and the negative by Miss Chrystal and Dr. S. F. McEwen.

Milo B. Huffman, a former employee of this paper, is now in khaki, and a member of the 187th at Soreau Camp, Calgary. Milo spent a few days in Brooks recently recruiting, and we are told was quite successful. If he can keep up the good work he will no doubt win his stripes.

Saturday, November 4th, is the date of Simon Swanson's big sale at Suffield. Harry W. Johnson, auctioneer, will offer for sale last day horses, cattle, and mules, as well as machinery. Farmers are invited to bring in anything they want offered for sale. At Suffield, November 4th.

Messrs. Nelson and Son, who came up from McMinnville, Oregon, about a month ago, returned home on Saturday last, travelling in the little old Ford. The elder Nelson will cast a ballot for Wilson before returning to Alderson for another visit. The kid talks Hughes, but that is just to make his dad mad.

Suffield Fair on the second day (Thursday) drew a fair sized crowd of some of the exhibitors, especially the Ladies' Work and the Vegetable departments, filled up nicely. Next year a better date will be arranged and a more successful fair held. The News has been promised a list of awards for the fair just held.

The American Hotel underwent another change this week. Tommy Boyd, the proprietor, sold out to
P. M. McCrorie, late of Bismark, N. D., and to E. Brown, a former partner in the business. Mr. Mc-Crorie is a man of considerable experience in the restaurant business, and promises that the American will give its patrons better service than ever. Bert Weller of Bismark is also working at the American,

PATRIOTIC CAMPAIGN.

A meeting of workers to organize Redcliff Constituency for the Patriotic Fund was held Saturday afternoon in the new Drummond store.
Those present at this meeting, who promised to aid the officers elected in the campaign were Messrs. Capt.
C. S. Pingle, M.L.A., Rev. T.
Taylor, J. M. Foughty, A. J. Drummond, H. S. Gerow, H. W. Johnson, R. H. Thornton, W. M. Cotter, O. J. Wood, F. L. Brown, Frank Shields, Robert Elliott, W.
D. Mackay, and others.

The Central Executive officers were elected as follows:
Honorary President, Capt. C. S.
Pingle, M.P.O. M. Schuler.
President, Dr. S. F. McEwen,
Alderson.
Vice President, Mayor Bott, Redcliff.

Secretary-Treasurer, Rev. T.
Taylor, Alderson.

Committee, A. J. Drummond,
Alderson.

Suffield, J. C. Reid.

Redcliff, W. Hatcher.

Idlesleigh, Martin Oimann.

Jenner, A. E. Weisdale.

Empress, M. A. Blodgett.

Scholar, P. O. M. Schuler.

This committee will be called together about three times a year, probably on each occasion at a different point in the riding. Red-cliff Riding has been asked to raise $3500, but the aim of the Committee will be to greatly exceed that very modest figure. Last year Alderson alone contributed half of
tee will be organized shortly.

F. B. Cummer, of the News staff, spent last week end at his home in Calgary.

Rhumer Charles Chaplin in a laughable farce, "The Vagabond," at the Alderson Picture House, tomorrow night.

Messrs. N. E. Stuart and E.
Sobie made a business trip to Jenner last Monday. The little northern town is said to be real busy.

F. J. Coffin, of Tripola, is in Alderson for a few days. Mr. Coffin will shortly enter the employ of the Atlas Lumber Co. at some Alberta point.

The W. A. will hold their regular monthly business and sewing meeting next Wednesday afternoon
3 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs.
Geo. Beattie. A full attendance of members is requested.

B. F. Hanson, of the Alderson
Meat Market, spent last week end in Calgary. B. F. was shown through the P. Burns packing plant last Saturday. He says the modern way of handling meat is a revelation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and little Miss Helen Bailey are on a visit to Blackfalds, Alta., where Mr. Bailley's brother resides. Mr. Bailey has not seen this brother for 23 years.

Threshing has been in full swing this week and the grain is beginning to move to the elevators in large quantities. The price at 81.63 on Tuesday was the high water mark up to that date. Alderson stores all report first-class business, with a fine fall trade in the offing.

The Ladies' Aid wish to correct the mistake in the date of the supper and sale which will take place on Nov. 8th instead of Nov. 1st.
Anyone wishing to contribute articles for the sale or chicken pie supper will please the same at the Palace Ice Cream Parlor. All contributions will be thankfully received. The next regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held on Thursday, Nov. 9th, at the church.

INVINCIBILITY OF GERMAN ARMY SHATTERED BY BRITISH PRESSURE

Y MANHOOD OF UNITED KINGDOM AND COLONIE

"...said the Kaiser to his aides, on the Somme, one day last year, is your especial privilege to begin the evening's talk with the thought that you are fighting against a man that has sworn to destroy you." He went on to sing the hymn of hate in the old, nearly forgotten; to excite his men against the British and the French, and to tell them that he was alone. "He rehearsed the story about how the English had broken and undone the war, while selling friendship, and he concluded that it was his duty to break the English line; to prove once more that Germany is invincible, and reduce to nothing the relentless enemies of our race, so that they will sue for peace on terms honorable and profitable to Germany."

British have not yet been reduced to despair, nor are they suing ice, says the New York Times, probably because they are opposed to Britain and the British: "were the British had been pushed back, Germany by the way, would, re now pushing them back because it is not due to any longer German aggression," the United Press reports show that Hitler's men are doing their best, "and all all the German soldiers are highly best." The Germans are beaten back because they cannot stand the pressure of the British, critics reported that the new army was not the equal of the old, and that the British were the best of the war. If this is true, the army must have been superior, or at least the scientific Germanics are wrong.

The nature of the ground makes a difference, the critics say. The rugged crests the British drive Germans before them, and then the Germans are not able to get the result. Everywhere the German force way before them, not because they are not the best, but for strategic reasons, but be-ounded Tommies home to recover are there. But in all there are stories that will be told for gen-their wonderful defences gone. But the Bull says that the only way to save chucks. But it is not any more an investment in the future than the tank; it is the manhood of the United Kingdom and its colonies, lying by stay-at-home critics for years and now giving a terrible example to the world.

"England will fight to the last man," says the Bull. "But what has become of those horrible slurs from easy chair typewriters which said we would make them, while a democratic nation with a little army, caught unawares, as these people had been, of military and naval trained soldiers die in vain. It has been said that democratic nation long to have an army, and now they are here, but no longer than it would call up a picture that transcends the imaginings of fiction. The Homeric tale of the great hollow horse from which so many of those during the war were taken. The "contemptible British army" became the terrible British army, which in the end was to be once more that Germany is invulnerable. Before the slow British the Germans are giving miles more they have given us our duty to look the English offensive, but the is unfulfilled, and it is the German defense. The British army will give way faster soon, for the of speed of an advance like this is not only a matter of time, but of simple interest. That already been proved by yards which became a matter of time. In today three miles may be taken in five, miles after that. Taken together mysterious. The of our enemies will not be as strong as other ones and become less to further the invaders go; and as the of our enemies will be more and more difficult to strengthen the last defenses, because it is to be a matter of time. There will never be need for without that.

The French have had praise, devotion and pity, for their hero.

It is well to spare a little for creation of the dead Kitchener, visible in its might, prodigious in its courage, terrible as even on the smears of the sneers of neutrals."

The Allies' Concerted Offensive

The blows dealt the enemy in the Alps and the foot of the Alps, in the Adriatic, in the Balkans, in all parts of a concerted line. It was fear of such concerted movements which made the German High Command so formidable in war on a "double front," and it is the realization that our movements are concerted which is making this war many fronts so formidable to the enemy. It is indeed a double front for the Allies also. The Secretary of War made no disguise of

"Why are meat and eggs so ex-the gods. But the enemy "has t his tide and he knows it." On fronts, including this new Saloniki nt, we have wrested the initiative

m him. It was his; it is now ours.

A NURSE'S LETTER FROM FRANCE.

The following letter published in the Hannover Post, from Miss Mary Alfons, a nurse in France, was handed to the News by Mrs. O. J. Wood. Mrs. Wood and Miss Adams attended High School together in Hannover, and were graduates together. The letter explains the untold work that the nursing sisters are doing at the Front.

—Sept. 12th, 1918.

Dear Friends:

I thought the best way I could thank you all for my box would be by writing one long letter. I so enjoyed your parcel; it was so nice to get some real home-made cake, for French pastry and cake though good, are not like ones from home. One of the girls, who was in my room when my parcel was brought in to me, said she would love to have a snap, for I looked like a child, after with her Christmas stocking. It has been so nice when I was in the hospital, and in the evening to make a cup of tea and have some cake and sweets. I suppose since the war is the only thing of interest these days you might like me to tell you something about our hospital here and my work in France.

Our hospital is situated on a rare corner about a twenty minute ride from Rouen, and for the most part consists of tents, each Marquee having 12 beds; they there are three huts. One used for theatre. X-ray room, and one end a small ward of 12 beds where serious cases right from the operating room can be put for special attention. Another hut of 30 beds for very ill surgical cases, and the third, this same for very ill medical cases. Besides these three ward huts are huts for linen stores, one for dispensary, also the Y.M.C.A., and canteen huts. Then there is a church tent for C. of E., one for R.C., and another for Pres. and Wes. All the officers and the officers' mess tents are under the grand stand, while each officer has a small tent for sleeping quarters.

The sisters are quartered in huts of which there are four; one for mess, and three sleeping huts. The huts are divided into little rooms by brown burlap partitions, and each one has its own door at the end. They are so cozy. I am very fond of my little room, it is quite attractive.

Work in the tents seemed very different to that of last year. Everything seemed so inconvenient. Then on rainy days one did not feel very "unpleasant" going about in oil skin, sou'wester and gum boots. One soon becomes accustomed to it all and in time becomes quite attached to their "line."

The first of July our big rush began and since then we have been kept busy. It made one realize how dreadful the war is when you see the men suffering such torture with great gaping wounds. The 2nd of July the wounded began to pour in. Inside of 24 hours our patients increased from 500 to 1200 with no increase of staff. In the evening of that first day I was handed a few empty bowls and told to go to some new tents to dress the patients and settle them for the night. Orders were being placed on stands about a foot high, then straw mattresses with brown blankets put on them.

I found them all at supper, those that could walk were sent to be washed; those who could not were given bathing; while helpless ones had to be bathed, and then I began dressings. I had five tents each with eight of them. Each tent had more patients continued to arrive more beds were added. So close were the beds you could not stand between. I made dressings until midnight, using a lantern for light. Next day I found my tents increased, so that I had over 150 patients. As soon as I had finished these dressings, I helped in other huts, and it was 2 a.m. before I had come.

The rush lasted for several days, sending patients to English season as possible, and getting new ones in. As the lines began to thin out went on the medical war turned into a surgical ward. Here many of the more serious cases were sent. Snatched up arms and legs, with great gaping wounds, amputations, one poor man bled black from his head to top of head. I was up early, my birthday; two little lads died, and another dying. I felt I could not stand more.

After a few days in the hut I was told that my little tents began to fill up again, for although I had so many patients myself, they were mostly minor cases, requiring only dressing. In the huts, however, were so much pain, suffering and death that it was very depressing. Sometimes I was difficult to keep my smiles from cracking and often what raised the biggest break was the patience of the boys. They never grumble or complain. Sometimes when very tired it seemed as though I never got away from it.

Announcement!

T. Hutchinson Saddlery Co. Announces Equipment of Shop With Machinery for Manufacturing Harness.

The T. Hutchinson Co., of Medicine Hat, wish to announce to the citizens of this district that they have just equipped their workshop with the most modern and up-to-date machinery that is made for the manufacture of harness, and are now in position to manufacture harness as cheaply as any other factory in Canada.

Moreover, in the face of the high price of raw material and the high price of labor, with the facilities we now have for making harness, we are going to lower the price of all harness. The fact of the matter is, we will be selling our own make of harness to the farmer at wholesale prices, eliminating the middleman's profit.

We are all aware of the fact that the manufacturers sell to the merchant and both must have a profit. But with our new system of selling direct from the manufacturer to you, we are able to save you that middleman's profit.

We are not going to sell our harness at a loss profit than we did under the old system, but with the latest methods of machinery, we are going to be able to make the same harness out of the best materials at a reduction of about twenty per cent., and we are going to give our customers the benefit of the discount.

Our new price lists will be completed in a few days and we will be pleased to quote prices on all kinds of harness and harness parts.

CROP STORIES

1100 bushels of wheat in this year of Grace 1918, from 24 acres of summer fallow, is what A. Zahre is reported to have received this year. Maybe Zahre will stick around this country for a while now instead of rambling away every now and then.

J. J. Cardell is reported to have threshed about 1500 bushels of wheat from 30 acres of laid over breaking. This piece averaged 50 per. Mr. Cardell's yield throughout was over 35 bushels per acre.

Geo. Why is a pleased man over this year's crop. The wheat on Mr. Why's farm ran 25 bushels per.

We forget how many thousands and thousands of bushels of oats Harry and Herb Johnson got; but, believe me, it was some crop.

SUCCESSFUL DEMONSTRATION.

On Tuesday morning at the farm of Thos. Seabury, near Alderson, a demonstration of the Case 10-20 tractor, pulling three plows in stubble, was given before quite a few farmers interested in the capabilities of a small tractor. This tractor pulled the three plows at a depth of from 6 to 8 inches with apparent ease. The spectators were well pleased with the demonstration, and prospects of selling a lot of these tractors in the spring are anticipated by Harry W. Johnson, agent, for the J. I. Case Co.

Mrs. CHARLOTTE COTTER,
Alderson, Alta.

Dear Mrs. Cotter.—In reply to your letter of the 18th inst., we are so sorry to have to tell you that the fund for the Christmas Stockings is closed. We received the $8000 necessary for this purpose, and as we did not wish to accept more than that on account of other need, being so pressing, we have had to ask a number of our workers to transfer their amounts to other funds.

We would be glad if you would use the $100 you have on hand to install two beds in the Princess Patricia Canadian Red Cross Convalescent Hospital at Ramsgate, for which we are just making an appeal. The beds may be named Alderson beds or any name you suggest. We are also very anxious to secure money for medical and hospital supplies for which there is a tremendous need, and I am enclosing a letter we are sending in regard to the British Red Cross, so that I think you will see that there is no difficulty in disposing of money at the present time.

Our books do not close until the 31st of October, and we would be glad if you could let us use the money for some of the beds before that date, otherwise it does no matter when you send it in.

We deeply appreciate the work you are doing for our Society in Alderson.

With kind regards, and trusting that this information will be of some use to you,

Yours faithfully,

M. FISCHAM,
Honorary Secretary-Treasurer
Alberta Provincial Branch Canadian Red Cross Society.

With reference to the above letter: If there are any who have so kindly contributed to this fund, and do not wish to transfer their contribution in the way mentioned, they may have it satisfactorily adjusted by calling or sending word to the Post Office any time before next Monday afternoon, Oct. 20th, five o'clock, when this subscription list closes and the amount forwarded that evening to the Alberta Provincial Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society at Calgary, the acknowledgment of which will be printed later in these columns, and we may say that we think the name Alderson very appropriate for the naming of the beds. According to this letter $50 in cash is left, so if this fund reaches $150 by next Monday, we will have three Alderson beds installed in this hospital.

Fund Is Growing.
